

Know a great volunteer?

Online nominations

Nationwide nominations will be collected via online nominations across 8 categories

Regional judges

Panels of 8 people aged 16 – 25 will be recruited and trained across the 9 regions

Nomination screening

Regional panels will screen all nominations to make sure people are in the right category so they have the best chance of winning an award

Regional judging panels

Regional panels will score each nomination on agreed criteria and then meet to decide on a winner for each award for their region

Visiting the regional winners

Each regional winner will be visited and filmed about their volunteering

National judges

A national judging panel will be put together made up of v20 members, staff and other stakeholders e.g. media or government representatives

National judging panel

The national panel will shortlist the regional winners to 3 finalists in each award category

National awards

The winner of each category is announced!

Nominations open on the 7th July and close on the 30th September

16-25? Interested in becoming a regional judge? Register your interest on the website vinspired.com/nationalawards

Screening happens from July to September. If the panel members think that someone has not been nominated in the right category then they may be moved to a different category so they have a better chance of winning!

The panels will meet in their regions in October and score each nomination form against the criteria detailed on the web site. They will judge each award in turn and look at all criteria using the information from the entire nomination form. The regional winners will be announced in October 2010

Filming of regional winners will take place October – November 2010

The national panel will meet in December 2010 and will use the nomination forms and the films to decide on three finalists for each award. They will then choose 1 as the overall category winner. Regional Winners will be contacted individually with further information about this

The award ceremony and the announcement of the national winners will take place in March 2011